DISCUSSION

The Fossil Fuel Non-Proliferation Treaty Initiative is a diplomatic and civil society campaign to create a treaty to stop fossil fuels exploration and expansion and to phase out existing production line. This global campaign to phase-out fossil fuels and propel an energy transition globally. The three pillars of the Treaty Initiative are: Just Transition: Fast-track real solutions through scaled up access to renewable energy and a just transition for every worker, community and country so that no one is left behind; Non-proliferation: Prevent the expansion of coal, oil and gas by ending all new exploration and production; and Fair Phase Out: Equitably phase out existing fossil fuel production in line with the 1.5˚C goal.

The Eureka Energy Committee recommends that Council allow the Mayor to endorse this call for a treaty.
