DISCUSSION:

California Government Code Sections 8698 et seq. allows local governments to declare a shelter crisis if a significant number of people are not able to obtain shelter and their health and safety may be threatened as a result. Such a declaration allows a jurisdiction to make government owned buildings available to use as a Warming Center or shelter. Additionally, it provides for immunity from liability for "ordinary negligence in the provision of emergency housing" provided that the jurisdiction has declared a shelter crisis under this code and made a finding "that a significant number of persons within the jurisdiction of the governing body are without the ability to obtain shelter, and that the situation has resulted in a threat to the health and safety of those persons."

There is anecdotal information before the Board that the volume of homeless individuals in the unincorporated areas of the County is greater than the shelter resources currently available. If true, in the event of prolonged or unusually inclement weather, the unmet need for temporary shelter to a large number of individuals will become a critical health and safety need. Nevertheless, a declaration of a Homeless Shelter Crisis is premature at this time because there is no statistical data before the Board to support a finding that a "significant number of persons" within the County are without ability to obtain shelter, and that the situation has resulted in "a threat to the health and safety of those persons." Therefore, it is necessary to refer this matter to staff so that they can provide the information needed in order for this Board to make a factual determination whether a shelter crisis exists.
