Annual Report

Code Enforcement Unit

ANNUAL REPORT

BACKGROUND

This report describes the activities of the Code Enforcement Unit (CEU) during the 2020 calendar year. When the CEU was transferred to the Planning and Building Department in August 2017 there came several changes. First, the Board directed the CEU to actively pursue illegal cannabis cultivation and junk vehicles, instead of being solely complaint driven. To better enforce county regulations, the Board adopted Ordinance 2576 and later, Ordinance 2646, which simplified and expedited the process of resolving violations. The Ordinance established procedures for notices, abatements, appeal hearings, assessments and liens.

The CEU is separated into two teams. The Humboldt Environmental Impact Reduction (HEIR) team uses satellite imagery to efficiently survey areas of illegal cannabis cultivation. The Traditional team investigates citizen complaints of public nuisance and code violations and actively addresses junk vehicles for abatement when found on private property. The HEIR team has one Investigator, three Code Compliance Officers. The Traditional team has two Investigators and two Code Compliance Officers. Both teams are supported by an Administrative Analyst, Legal Office Assistant and Manager. County CEU Investigators and Officers are in the process of becoming California Association of Code Enforcement Officers (CACEO) certified and have completed two of the three 40-hour modules.

CEU PROCESS WORKFLOW

The process for code enforcement is established in Ordinance 2576. Figure 1.0 depicts the case workflow for code enforcement projects.

NOTICE TO ABATE NUISANCE & NOTICE OF VIOLATION AND ADMINISTRATIVE CIVIL PENALTY

A Notice to Abate Nuisance (“NTA”) gives a property owner 10 days to voluntarily abate the public nuisance or request an appeal hearing before an independent hearing officer. Failure to do either within the 10-day period will give the CEU jurisdiction to conduct an abatement of the public nuisance.

The Notice of Violation and Proposed Administrative Civil Penalty (“Notice of Violation” or “NOV”) gives the responsible party 10 days to voluntarily correct the code violation or request an appeal hearing before an independent hearing officer. If the code violation is not corrected or otherwise remedied within the 10-day period, a daily penalty of one dollar ($1.00) to ten thousand dollars ($10,000), as determined by the CEU in accordance with the rate schedule set forth in the Ordinance 2576 (specifically, Humboldt County Code (HCC) section 352-6), will commence after the 10-day period. The daily penalty continues for a period up to ninety (90) days, unless the code violation is corrected, dismissed or suspended by the hearing officer.

Ordinance 2646

The Board of Supervisors adopted Ordinance 2646 in July 2020. Ordinance 2646 made minor amendments to Ordinance 2576 including:

- Immediate imposition of administrative civil penalties for repeat or ongoing cannabis violations under certain circumstances to be consistent with Government Code Section 53069.4 (see HCC section 352-5). The CEU did not implement this measure in 2020.
- Recordation of the Notice to Abate Nuisance and Notice of Violation on subject property to prevent violations from being unknowingly passed onto the new property owners (see HCC section 352-4).

APPEAL HEARINGS

As previously stated, when served with a Notice to Abate Nuisance and/or Notice of Violation an owner can request an appeal hearing. When served with both notices, the appeal hearings can be combined. The County has a professional services agreement with California Hearing Officers, LLP to fulfil the duties of the Office of County Hearing Officer. California Hearing Officers, LLP assigns an impartial hearing officer without County input from a panel of their hearing officers to oversee the appeal hearings. The preparation for an appeal hearing is a significant time commitment. There is staff time spent on communication and negotiations with the responsible party in an attempt to have them bring the property into compliance prior to appeal hearing and staff time spent on serving notice for and attending the appeal hearing. The exhibit packet alone, which is provided to the property owner and hearing officer prior to the appeal hearing, takes 15+ hours to prepare and can be between 200 – 300 pages. It thoroughly lays out the evidence and the County’s position. At the appeal hearing, the hearing officer hears testimony from staff and the property owner and reviews the County’s exhibit packet and any documentary evidence provided by the property owner. In 2020, there were 2 appeal hearings. This number is substantially lower than the previous year due to impacts from COVID-19. The table below summarizes the 2 appeal hearings in 2020.

Hearing Date	Case No.	APN	Owners	Penalty Requested by County	Penalty Ordered by Hearing Officer	Status
1/10/2020	18CEU-110	216-393-009	Medrano Ixel V & Liliana	$450,000	$360,000 reduced due to inability to pay	Appealed to Superior Court
1/10/2020	18CEU-104	216-393-014	Alatorre Roberto & Medrano Ixel	$450,000	$360,000 reduced due to inability to pay	Appealed to Superior Court

TRADITIONAL TEAM

The Traditional team responds to complaints of public nuisances and code violations and receives hundreds of complaints every year. Each complaint is logged, vetted and prioritized based on the severity of the impact on the health, safety and/or general welfare of the public. The violations with the highest priority are investigated first. Most cases are related to public nuisance and code violations having to do with improper storage of solid waste, junk vehicles, grading and construction without permits.

When a complaint is received for a potential public nuisance and code violation a traditional case can take several paths forward. Code Enforcement staff will initially conduct research and reach out to property owners and educate them on the actions necessary to abate the public nuisance and correct the code violation. Some property owners are cooperative and willingly come into compliance and others are not. Unwilling property owners can make the process painstakingly slow and arduous. Without consent of the property owner CEU staff is forced to obtain inspection warrants for each and every site visit. This process alone takes the better part of a week to submit to the courts, receive authorization and post notice at the property.

Once a complaint is verified, CEU staff will attempt to enter into a compliance agreement with the property owner. A compliance agreement outlines the public nuisance and code violations that exist and the corrective actions to abate the nuisance(s) with timelines. It provides clear expectations about what corrective actions are required and by when they must be completed. Many property owners are successful in completing abatement within the specified timeframes, but just as many fail, and the compliance agreement is breached. At this point several months may have gone by with little improvement to the property, not because CEU staff is not actively working the case but due to the property owner failing to perform their obligations pursuant to the compliance agreement.

When property owners are unable or unwilling to address the public nuisance and code violations on their property the County can step in and perform an abatement. Again, depending on the property owner's cooperation, this step can take a considerable amount of time. It involves preparing and submitting another inspection warrant so staff can certify current property conditions, planning scope of work and retaining a licensed contractor, executing contracts and coordinating schedules and then preparing and filing an abatement warrant to allow the County (and its contractors) to enter the property for the purposes of abatement. Even when traditional cases go smoothly, they can take several months, and often years, to gain full compliance. And the casework does not end once the property is cleared of the public nuisances and code violations. There are several steps necessary to properly assess the property for any County abatement costs or administrative civil penalties and record the lien against the property if the County is to recover abatement costs.

The Traditional team currently has nearly 700 cases that are open with approximately 450 still unassigned to staff. A full-time workload consists of approximately 40 cases. The two most seasoned staff members each have over 75 cases assigned to them while the two staff members hired in November and December 2020 have about 35 cases each. There is clearly more work than the current staff can address and there continues to be more cases opened each month than closed.

County Abatement

The CEU encounters situations where the property owner is unwilling or incapable of dealing with the public nuisance located on their property. In these cases, as a last resort and after repeated attempts to get the property owner to perform the abatement, the County will step in after properly serving notice and obtaining jurisdiction to perform a County abatement. The County obtains jurisdiction to abate a nuisance once the 10-day Notice to Abate Nuisance is served and the property owner neither abates the nuisance nor requests an appeal hearing. See HCC section 351-13.

In 2020, there was one County abatement involving a junkyard in Dinsmore (APN 208-341-024). The case began in 2018 and involved:

Pre-Abatement Photos

Code Enforcement Unit

- 6.25 acre property found to be an illegal junk yard
- Public health and safety issue due to proximity to the Van Duzen River
- The presence of over 200 junk vehicles
- Many vehicle parts and scrap metal
- Hundreds of tires
- Over 200 appliances including refrigerators, washers and dryers
- Many containers/drums of oil and other hazardous waste.

While the property owner attempted to work toward cleaning up the property, the accumulation of 30 years of debris proved to be too difficult. The County issued a request for proposals in February and received a qualifying bid from Hedspeth, Inc. to clean up this site.

Abatement activities began in October, and although the August Complex fire impacted the scheduled abatement operations, the clean-up was concluded in December 2020. Removed from the site were:

- Approximately 400 junk vehicles, many of them initially hidden in the berry brambles and undiscovered until abatement began.
- 19 drums of hazardous waste
- 4.5 high side truckloads of tires
- 7 high side truckloads of scrap metal
- 25 flatbed truckloads of scrap metal
- 17 truckloads of debris (solid waste)

During the abatement several buried drums of unknown substance were discovered. The contractor called for ground penetrating radar to determine the extent of the buried drums. The resulting report indicated the drums appeared to be an isolated incident and abatement of the site continued after securing the area around the buried drums according to the Department of Environmental Health and Certified Unified Program Agency (CUPA) recommendations. A second phase of the cleanup is still required to remediate contaminated soils, address the buried drums and remove additional junk vehicles and debris located in the embankment of the Van Duzen River and along the riverbed.

After the abatement is completed, the department will follow the steps required by Humboldt County Code sections 351-16 et seq in order to recover all abatement costs incurred including a recording of a lien on the subject property if necessary. Because this was a County abatement, the assessment, once approved by the Board of Supervisors, may also be collected in the same manner as property taxes.

Post Abatement Photos

The County abatement of the Dinsmore junkyard is an example of how long the process can take for addressing public nuisances and code violations. In this case, even with a cooperative owner, the process still took 3 years to get to the end of the first phase. There is still the second phase and the cost recovery process to complete before this case can be closed.

HUMBOLDT ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT REDUCTION (HEIR) TEAM

The HEIR team is directed by the Board of Supervisors to actively enforce the Commercial Cannabis Land Use Ordinance (CCLUO) to reduce environmental impacts associated with illegal cannabis cultivation. Examples of environmental harm include:

- Improper storage of hazardous materials
- Solid waste
- Grading and construction without permits
- Unapproved sewage disposal systems
- Development within a Streamside Management Area

The HEIR team also conducts intra-agency investigations with the Sheriff's Marijuana Eradication

Team (MET) and California Department of Fish and Wildlife (CDFW) during search warrants and other law enforcement activity related to illegal cannabis activity.

When aerial evidence suggests a commercial cannabis operation is in violation of the CCLUO, the HEIR team will serve a Notice to Abate Nuisance and Notice of Violation on the property which comes with penalties up to $10,000 per violation per day (per HCC section 352-3(h)). Violation of the CCLUO is often accompanied by violations of the grading ordinance and the building code. The property owner has 10 days to abate the public nuisance and/or correct the code violation in order to avoid the imposition of administrative civil penalties.

For property owners who need additional time to abate the public nuisance and/or correct the code violations, the CEU offers compliance agreements in exchange for more time. There are usually one-day of administrative civil penalties associated with the compliance agreement offer.

In 2020 the HEIR team:

- Served NTA & NOV on 103 new violations of the CCLUO
- 65 of the 103 were in collaboration with law enforcement agencies.
- 21 of the cases have requested to enter or have already entered into no-penalty compliance agreements. These no-penalty agreements are offered to property owners who have abated the public nuisance and/or corrected the code violations to their greatest ability but require additional time for reasons beyond their control.
- For new 2020 cases, there were zero compliance agreements involving penalties.
- 23 of the 2020 cases, are either completely abated or nearing abatement.
- For cases originating before 2020, CEU entered into 28 compliance agreements with 11 of them including penalties totaling $245,000.

Toward the end on 2020, the HEIR team assisted with an effort to review all cannabis applications for compliance. The goal was to identify applicants who were cultivating without an interim permit (IP) or exceeding the square footage of their IP. It was also to notify applicants of 2019 taxes owed, state license status and whether their application was complete or incomplete. Each site was reviewed and resulted in the applicant getting one of three letters:

- The first letter went to approximately 200 applicants who were observed to be in compliance, meaning they cultivated within the allowed square footage of their IP (and also had a state license), 2019 taxes were paid and their application with the County was complete. These applicants had their IP extended through 2021.

- The second letter went to approximately 260 applicants found to be in compliance with their IP but missing taxes or state license or had an incomplete application.
- A third letter was sent to approximately 160 applicants who were observed cultivating without an IP or in an area greater than allowed under their IP. Those applicants were offered the option to pay a penalty to continue in the application process provided the cannabis was fully removed or withdraw their application.

In total, approximately 524 letters were sent out resulting in 18 applicants withdrawing their application, $738,749.73 collected in penalties and 22 outcomes still unresolved.

All administrative civil penalties, assessments and liens, including penalties paid to enter into compliance agreements and penalties paid for unauthorized cultivation, go into the County General Fund.

Assessments & Liens

When a case has accrued administrative civil penalties and the County has obtained jurisdiction to collect those penalties, the property owner is served a Notice of Administrative Civil Penalty Assessment. The property owner may request an Administrative Civil Penalty Assessment Appeal Hearing within ten (10) days before the Board of Supervisors. If no appeal hearing is requested, then the item goes before the Board of Supervisors for summary approval pursuant to HCC section 352-20. The final assessment approved by the Board of Supervisors may become a lien against the property after serving and recording a Notice of Administrative Civil Penalty Lien. In 2020, the Board of Supervisors approved assessments for 13 properties in the amount of $10,969,750.38.

The likelihood of the County collecting on the full assessments is low because it requires the County to undertake a civil foreclosure on the lien and force the sale of the property. Even then, the property's value and any other encumbrances ahead of the County lien would certainly diminish the recovery of the assessment value.

The table on the following page details the assessments approved in 2020.

COVID-19 & WILDFIRES

The activities of the CEU have not been immune to the impacts of the COVID-19 global pandemic and the subsequent shelter-in-place order. The pandemic hampered the CEU's ability to conduct inspections, post notices and caused CEU to "stop the clock" on 10-day notice timelines and administrative civil penalty accrual. The traditional team noticed a tremendous increase in the number of incoming complaints during the shelter-in-place, which staff attributed to people being stuck in their homes and noticing disturbing activities in their neighborhoods. The CEU continued to respond to health and safety issues throughout the shelter-in-place and worked closely with the Joint Information Center (JIC) to address complaints and even provided staff to the JIC to assist in responding to complaints. This meant there were fewer CEU staff to address the increase in complaints during the same time period.

In 2020, the HEIR team had planned to address properties that received the courtesy warning letters that were mailed out in November 2019. These letters informed property owners that unpermitted commercial cannabis cultivation appeared on their parcel and warned against future enforcement action if activity continued. The team was also planning to address complaints of nighttime sky light violations and other unauthorized cannabis cultivation for the 2020 season.

Instead, the HEIR team used the time of restricted activity as an opportunity to fully transition case data to the new Accela database that the CEU switched to in November 2019. Even with the challenges presented by the shelter-in-place and wildfires, the HEIR team initiated 103 new cases in 2020. CEU assisted law enforcement with 65 warrants resulting in Notices to Abate Nuisance and Notices of Violation.

In October 2020, the CEU sent letters to all cases affected by the shelter-in-place order to notify them of the 'restarting' of the clock for 10-day notices and accrual of administrative civil penalties.

COURT PROCEEDINGS

Several CEU cases taken to appeal hearings before 2020 were appealed to the Superior Court, and to the Court of Appeals, and the Superior Court and Court of Appeals issued their rulings and decisions in 2020. On the Traditional side:

- The case on APN 515-172-010 worked its way through several appeals, however, on April 21, 2020, the Superior Court issued its ruling and imposed a $45,000 administrative civil penalty. This case dates back to 2012 and involves extensive violations of unpermitted structures, solid waste, junk vehicles and unpermitted water supply and sanitation systems among others. In a separate Superior Court ruling, the property owner appealed this ruling to the Court of Appeals. The Court of Appeals, in an unpublished decision, dismissed the appeal which allows the County to move forward on abatement of the property.
- The case on APN 015-191-061 was ultimately dismissed after several filings and motions were considered. This case involves the unpermitted use of a building that was converted into and is used as a single-family residence. This paves the way for the County to move forward on the abatement of this property.

In 2020, five of the cannabis related cases were still making their way through various Court challenges. In each of these cases, the hearing officer found the county had demonstrated, through a preponderance of evidence, that the violations existed on the property. The Hearing Officer also ruled and ordered imposition of administrative civil penalties on the property owner for not abating the violations after they were properly noticed of their existence on the properties. No court ruling on these five cases was received in 2020¹. These cases are:
